Definite Test On Division Of Europe Is Near

Break-Up Of Tripartite
Paris Conference Brings
New Problems To Europe

MOLOTOV QUILTS PARIS PARLEY

(BULLETIN)
PARIS, July 3.—(INS)—Great Britain and France turned their backs on Russia's walk-out from the Paris Conference today and invited all European nations excepting Spain to take part in a vast continental parley on the Marshall self-aid plan.
Less than 24 hours after Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov bolted the Paris meeting which had held out such high hopes, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Minister Bidault issued a joint communique announcing the invitation.

PARIS, July 3.—A definite test as to whether Europe is to follow Soviet or western allied blueprints for recovery was set in motion today after breakup of the ill-starred tripartite Paris conference on the Marshall plan.

While reaction from all Europe forecast a stiffening of Anglo-French attitudes in the wake of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's withdrawal from the Paris parley, Britain and France planned immediate action.

This was to take the form of invitations to all European countries except Spain and Russia to participate in an international economic conference.

To Test Russia
Inevitably, such an invitation would be designed to test the ability of Russia to hold back her satellites from participation in the Marshall self-recovery plan.
Chief interest focused on the re-

Pa Newc Observes

On the raised bank of the Shepp property, corner of East Washington and Oak streets, there is an area of rambling rose vines, with a profusion of pink roses which present a pretty sight.

Almost daily on Pearson street, near the old Aiken school building which houses the Jewelers Training School, can be seen automobiles carrying license plates of at least a dozen different states. One car bears a South Carolina tag.

It is the rare bird of corn in this vicinity that has reached the traditional "knee-high by the Fourth of July" this backward growing season. Out on Frew Mill road there is one up this high but in most fields corn is only what you might call ankle high yet. Looks as if the roasting ear season will be slightly delayed.

Cascade street should be a little less dustier now. Employees of the state highway department have just completed calcium treatment operations on the thoroughfare. Calcium treatment work is in progress today in Wampum bore, it was reported by Alfred Martin, County Highway Superintendent.

A pat on the back should be given to the workmen who dismantled the old frame building in the 400 block of East Washington street. The men returned and leveled up the lot and put it in a very presentable condition. Following most dismantling jobs in the city, ugly caverns are left in the ground.

Confesses Philadelphia Murder

William A. Wagner, Jr. (above), is being held on a homicide charge in Philadelphia, where, according to police, he has confessed the strangulation murder of Margaret C. Dougherty (inset), 50. Wagner alleges he picked the spinster up on a street corner about 2 a. m. and in his nearby room choked her to death when the two became involved in an argument. Keeping the body in a closet several days, Wagner told police he stuffed it in a barrel, dumping the drum on an empty lot where, on June 20, police found it.

Ten Divisions In July 4th Parade

Complete with everything except long winded speeches, New Castle will see an old time Fourth of July here tomorrow. As a part of the convention activities of the Sons of Italy there will be a parade, a display of fireworks and of course the usual Fourth of July refreshments, lemonade and hot dogs.

Eleven bands will be in the parade, starting from the Sons of Italy home on South Mill street at two o'clock. Alfonso Scarazzo is the chief marshal of the parade and the line of march will be north to the public square by way of Grove and Washington streets, then back to the lodge home by way of Moravia, Jefferson, Long and Mill streets.

Marchers And Floats
Delegates to the convention, many lodges in the western part of the state, other fraternal orders from New Castle and many floats will make the parade a long one. It is believed the parade will be approximately a mile and a half in length.

Francis J. Augustine is the general chairman of the parade.

The parade is merely the first half of an old-fashioned Fourth. In the evening there will be a fire-

British Views On Greek Issue To Be Presented

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 3.—(INS)—Great Britain was scheduled to present its views on "the Greek issue" before the Security Council of the United Nations today.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, representing the United Kingdom, was expected to endorse the conclusions and recommendations contained in the recently-submitted report of the U. N. Balkan investigating commission.

This 11-nation commission, headed by Mark Ethridge, charged in its 230,000-word report to the United Nations that Yugoslavia—and Albania and Bulgaria "to a lesser extent"—were responsible for supporting guerrilla warfare along Greece's northern borders.

The commission recommended establishment of a new frontier commission, for a period of at least two years. This new commission would have the right to investigate for the U. N. any frontier violations "with the right of direct access to the four governments" concerned.

Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria have formally denied the charges of the Ethridge report in statements made before the Security Council.

DRIVER IS HELD

CLEVELAND, July 3.—(INS)—Norman Chadbourne, 28, of Erie, Pa., was held by Cleveland police today after his car fatally injured Alex Kenesey, 57, of Cleveland.
The accident occurred, police said, when Kenesey stepped in front of Chadbourne's machine. The Erie resident told police he was enroute home from Chicago where he is a student.

Moscow Radio Gives Views On Parley Collapse

(BULLETIN)

MOSCOW, July 3.—(INS)—The Moscow radio, commenting on the breakdown of the Paris conference, blasted France and Britain today for attempting to dominate Europe.

The first Russian comment on the collapse declared:

"United States economic aid served as the pretext for the Anglo-French governments to insist on the formation of an organization dominating European countries and interfering in their affairs."

The broadcast thus echoed the line laid down by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at the conference. The commentator added that "at the same time Britain, France and the countries friendly to them are claiming a dominating position in the organization."

Don't drive so slow as to retard traffic.
Don't cut in and out.
Don't make a bad pass.
Don't fail to obey all Stop signs.

The police will be on 24 hours duty, and will ride, not only all improved highways but will be on secondary lanes.

Press Sees World At Crossroads As Molotov Quits Paris Parley

(By International News Service)

Leading American news papers, reacting editorially to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's rejection of the Marshall European self-help plan, generally agreed today that Europe—and the world—now stands at a crossroads.

The New York Times declared Russia again insisted on a "free hand and unilateral action in pursuit of her own expansionist aims at the expense of other nations."

The Times added: "We now face a situation in which Russia's persistent sabotage of all efforts at peace and reconstruction for two dismal years finally has brought

New Wage Pact Is Expected To Avert Coal Strike

Acceptance Of Tentative Agreement Expected By
75 Per Cent Of Soft
Coal Tonnage

DETAILS OF PACT NOT MADE PUBLIC

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 3.—A wage agreement fashioned by John L. Lewis and "big steel" was laid before the nation's soft coal interests today as the pattern for peace in the mine fields.

The new pact was hammered out in a week-long series of secret meetings to avert a full-fledged summer coal strike next Tuesday when Lewis' 400,000 United Mine Workers end a ten-day vacation.

Acceptance of the agreement by northern and western bituminous producers, representing 75 percent of the country's soft coal tonnage, seems assured. Southern mine owners will meet in Washington Friday to decide their course.

Details Not Announced

Details of the pattern settlement were not announced, but it reportedly gives the miners the equivalent of a 35-cent-an-hour pay boost. Some operators estimated the agreement will cost the coal industry 400 million dollars annually.

Offers made to Lewis last Thursday by Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, and George Humphrey, chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., world's largest commercial producer, formed the basis for the agreement.

All of the northern and western coal producers had agreed "reluctantly" to go along on the original offer, but the final settlement with the hard-bargaining UMW president was said to be "seven higher."

One estimate placed the basic wage rate increase at 45-cents an hour.

Reportedly Gets Demands

Under the agreement, Lewis reportedly gets his full demands for $13.05 for an eight hour port-to-port day as against the miners' present earning of $11.85 for a nine hour day.

Attorneys for both sides are busy today working up the formal terms. (Continued on Page Two)

To Watch State Borders For Cigaret Bootleggers

By JOHN WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 3.—The state department of revenue disclosed today that border patrols of state troopers and revenue agents will range Pennsylvania boundaries to halt bootlegging of tax-free cigarettes.

W. H. Beachy, deputy secretary of the bureau of investigations and collections, said special patrols were being organized and will be ordered to stop and search any vehicle suspected of carrying a carton or more of contraband cigarettes.

Individuals attempting to dodge the state cigarette tax will find it an "expensive game and not worth the chance," he declared.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—President Truman leaves Washington at 2 p. m. (EDT) today to drive to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson at Charlottesville, Va., for the Fourth of July week-end.

The chief executive will make a major address from the west portico of the state Jefferson mansion at 1:30 p. m. EDT, tomorrow.

The president will place a wreath on Jefferson's tomb, and after his address is to be the guest of the University of Virginia, which Jefferson founded, at the Colonial club.

Mr. Truman will be presented a gavel carved from a tree which Jefferson planted at Monticello.

Seek To Refloat Army Transport

TOKYO, July 3.—(INS)—Two new efforts to refloat the grounded army transport Admiral Sims moved futile today and the 16,000-ton vessel remained stuck fast on a reef outside Yokohama harbor.

Army and Navy troops were to make a third attempt to free the transport at high tide tonight. Special crews were assigned to clear debris holding the ship's bow to the reef.

The Sims ran aground in a dense fog early Tuesday morning. She was inbound to Yokohama from Manila. Passengers were taken ashore aboard LSTS.

Flood Starts To Fall Slowly In St. Louis Area

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—(INS)—Resident of Cape Girardeau, Mo., prepared today to meet the full force of the flooding Mississippi river as the surging waters threatened a new crest near the community.

A high mark of 41.5 feet, almost 10 feet above flood stage, was forecast for tomorrow in the Cape Girardeau area, 150 miles downstream from St. Louis.

The menace of the mighty river was believed stemmed at St. Louis where army engineers have been staging an emergency battle against the Father of Waters for 25 days.

Starts To Fall

This week's flood, which surpassed the great flood of 1944 but missed by more than a foot the all-time mark of 103 years ago, reached 40.3 feet yesterday afternoon near St. Louis. Then it started to fall slowly.

Estimates of the flood damage in Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska in the past three weeks ranged as high as several hundred millions of dollars.

Red Cross officials declared that 34,812 persons were homeless in the four states. The figures included 20,300 in Iowa, 10,940 in Missouri, 2,972 in Illinois and 600 in Nebraska.

New Attempt On Tax Reduction Now Scheduled

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Over the objections of Senate President Vandenberg (R) Mich., the GOP congress rolled out a new tax reduction vehicle today for a second try on the legislative course which ended in a sustained veto two weeks ago.

The house ways and means committee scheduled a meeting this morning to report out the four billion dollar GOP tax-cut bill which now carries an effective date of next January 1.

House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., announced that the revised measure would reach a house vote Tuesday and be sent immediately to the senate. Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy chairman, promised senate action next week.

Congressman And Munitions Makers Are Found Guilty

Jury In Federal Court De-liberates Less Than Two Hours On Verdict

TRIAL LASTED OVER TEN WEEKS (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—A federal court jury today convicted ex-Rep. Andrew J. May (D) Ky., and the munitions-making Garsson brothers of war fraud conspiracy after deliberating only one hour and 50 minutes.

May, Dr. Henry Garsson and Murray W. Garsson face mandatory prison terms ranging up to six years each and possible $30,000 fines.

The convictions grew out of the operations of the fabulous 78 million dollar munitions empire the Garssons built from the flimsiest beginnings.

May is the first World War II high-ranking public official to be found guilty of profiting at the expense of the nation's war effort.

He was charged with using his office as chairman of the powerful House military affairs committee to win favors and contracts for the Garssons from the war department and army officials.

He also was accused of accepting $53,000 for his "services" to the munitions combine.

'Verdict Will Be Appealed'

The 72-year-old Kentuckian, biting his lip but otherwise showing little emotion at the jury verdict, cried:

"I'm not daunted for a minute."

May added grimly:

"The verdict will be appealed."

Linking arms with his daughter, Mrs. Olga Latta, he strode from the courtroom refusing further comment.

The jury of five women and seven men began deliberations at 9:35 a. m. (EDT) the verdict was reached an hour and 50 minutes later, but

Predicts Draft To Be Resumed

Senator Asserts Draft Will Be Renewed If Armed Service Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Sen. Edward V. Robertson (R) Wyo., predicted today that the selective service draft would be renewed within a year after congressional passage of the present armed service unification bill.

At the same time Robertson declared that the army had succeeded in getting "merger" provisions into the measure, while, he said, sponsors "called it a unification bill."

Declaring that passage of the measure will bring pressure for an unprecedented peacetime army, Robertson said:

"If this bill goes through, the draft will be renewed within a year." As he prepared to battle the measure on the senate floor next Monday, Robertson declared that "it is a merger bill in its present form" said he will offer amendments "to make it a unification bill."

Permit Counties To Borrow Money From Fuels Funds

HARRISBURG, July 3.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 67 counties were authorized to borrow money from their liquid fuels funds for general budget purposes under legislation signed today by Gov. James H. Duff.

Money siphoned from the funds for purposes other than highway construction must be repaid within the fiscal year.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. John G. Snowden (R.) Lycoming, also validated borrowing prior to January 1, 1946.

The liquid fuels funds, composed of state gasoline tax rebates, heretofore were frozen for use in road and building and maintenance.

Counties were expected to receive approximately $19,000,000 from the commonwealth during the 1947-48 biennium representing a half penny of the three-cent permanent gasoline levy.

Twenty million dollars of an anticipated $36,000,000 biennial return from the emergency one-cent tax has been earmarked for cities, boroughs and townships.

The governor also signed a bill bringing all diesel oil and other liquid fuels used in motor vehicles besides gasoline under the total four-cent-a-gallon levy.

action of Poland and Czechoslovakia, which are believed to be anxious to take part for the sake of their own national economies and international relationships.

In general, the Paris conference failure was looked upon as European capitals as signifying once and for all a definite cleavage between the western and eastern blocs, leaving it for the future to determine which influence will prove the stronger in creating a final pattern for Europe's economy.

The first definite indication as regards the future of a Europe that now has become more bewildered than ever is expected to come within 24 hours.

During that time, Poland will have received a formal invitation to become a member of the "cooperation committee" to organize European recovery.

Caused Molotov's Break
It was bitter opposition to creation of any such committee that prompted Molotov to quit the Paris parley on the grounds it would be transformed into a "super-state" organization privileged to interfere in the internal affairs of nations and result eventually in Anglo-American "domination" of Europe.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Bidault went ahead with their invitation plans in a series of conferences that continued without interruption after the Soviet withdrawal.

Bevin also was reported considering a final appeal to Premier Stalin to reverse the angry Soviet rejection of the Marshall plan.

Dangerous Division
Informants said Bevin would stress the dangerous division of Europe into eastern and western camps participated by Russia's withdrawal from the Paris conference of the European Big Three.

London reports said political authorities believe Bevin will make his appeal to the Soviet chief for another effort at economic cooperation while reporting the breakdown of the conference to Commons.

It is understood that six countries will be asked to form the cooperation committee or steering group. These are Britain, France, Norway, Poland, Italy and Belgium.

A meeting will be called for Paris within the next ten days with the intention of drawing up a report by Sept. 1 as Europe's formal reply to the Marshall proposal for American aid to a self-help program.

TO WATCH BORDERS FOR BOOTLEGGERS

ettes into the state will lose the smokes and will be fined $25 plus costs.

Individuals caught smuggling cigarettes across the state line for resale will be haled into court and fined from $100 to $300.

Beachy said offenders will discover the enforcement program to be "very effective when it gets into full swing."

Warning Issued
Warning that the revenue department has "means and methods of discovering what comes across the border from surrounding states," he said agents have already uncovered signs of large-scale bootlegging operations.

Numerous individual violators have been caught attempting to spirit untaxed cigarettes across the borders, Beachy said.

He declared that the contraband cigarettes cannot be offered for sale to the general public because of the revenue department's constant check on sales.

"Bootlegged cigarettes can only be disposed of among people who want to defraud the state," Beachy asserted. "The department believes that the public wants to halt this racket before it gets started."

He said the department has recommended that seized cigarettes be sold on competitive bids to authorized agencies when a sufficient quantity has been accumulated. The only other alternative, Beachy said, would be to destroy the contraband goods.

It was an additional 25 minutes before the jurors returned to the courtroom.

Jury Is Polled
As soon as the jury foreman, George E. Wells, 51, a draftsman, announced the guilty verdict, Margiotti asked for a poll of the jury.

As the five men and seven women were asked individually what their verdict was on each defendant and on each of the three counts, they replied in firm low voices:

"Guilty."

May's daughter, Mrs. Olga Latta, who has been his constant companion during the long taxing weeks of trial, said she felt sure her father would be ultimately vindicated.

May, stiffly upright, marched from the courtroom on the arm of his daughter to face a barrage of photographers on the courthouse steps.

The defense lawyers, of which there were nine, have five days in which to file motions for a new trial. If such motions fail the jury will have ten additional days in which to file an appeal.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—A federal court jury began deliberations today on its verdict in the conspiracy trial of ex-Rep. May (D-Ky.) and the munitions-making Garsson brothers.

As the five men and seven women of the jury started deliberations after hearing ten and one-half weeks of testimony, they had before them the court's instruction that any guilty verdict must include May.

Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut explained in his charge last Wednesday that one or both of the Garssons cannot be found guilty on any count of the three-count indictment under which they are being tried unless May also is found guilty.

"Use Common Sense"
Also fresh in the jurors' minds was the judge's admonition that they use common sense and their knowledge of human nature in weighing the evidence presented by both sides. He told them they were trying an important case with many facts but that the basic issue was simple—did May receive compensation for the "services" he is alleged to have performed for the Garssons while he was house military committee chairman?

The government charges that the ex-congressman got $53,000 for putting pro-Garsson pressure on the war department during the war.

The defense contends that May received no pay for favors to the Garssons and that the Garsson money that went into his hands was spent by him as an agent operating a Garsson-backed lumber company.

Chairman Michael Priscilla of the Housing Committee today expressed the gratitude of his committee and the lodge for the fine manner in which New Castle people responded to the last minute appeal for rooms for delegates and guests.

"The news had been on the streets but a few minutes when the calls started coming in," said he. The first call came as we were assigning the last available room, with a list of twenty waiting. Through the fine co-operation of our townspeople we were able to get rooms for everyone."

A tremendous crowd is expected in New Castle Friday, July 4, for the parade. Large marching delegations from a score of Sons of Italy lodges in this district will be here and the problem of adequate restaurant facilities looms today.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Tomorrow we celebrate the 171st anniversary of the birth of this nation. It finds us emerging slowly from the after effects of victory in the world's greatest war.

This particular Independence Day differs from all others that have preceded it. It is a time for every American to pause and consider the new position that this nation holds in the world of today—and tomorrow.

God grant us the wisdom to meet our responsibilities, and to avoid in any honorable way possible the horrors that another war would bring.

PHILOSOPHY OF FREEDOM

Once each year, on the Fourth of July, the people of the United States pause to celebrate the anniversary of their independence. It is a time for a renewal of devotion to the fundamental beliefs that are the basis and bulwark of liberty.

On July 4, 1776, the members of the Continental Congress did more than assert their independence. That was the purpose of the original resolution submitted on June 7 by Richard Henry Lee, declaring "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

But the men on whom this great responsibility rested felt, and rightly so, that a mere statement of independence was not enough. So a committee of five, headed by Thomas Jefferson, was delegated to embody the spirit and purpose that motivated them into a declaration of independence.

They acted wisely. The words of that declaration were the most potent weapon of the new nation in its bitter fight for freedom. Because those words rang true, the weak and struggling colonies were able to stand against the might of the strongest empire in the world.

Those words, across the years, still ring true: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Those words are the heart of the declaration. They are more. They are the charter of liberalism. For 171 years, they have inspired men all over the world to rise against tyranny. For 171 years, they have been the guiding spirit in the life of the nation, the watchwords in the constant fight against bureaucracy and oppressive taxation.

They have served the nation well. As long as Americans are true to them, this will be the home of the free and the land of opportunity. The whole philosophy of freedom is expressed in those words, and to them on this anniversary of liberty all Americans again should pledge their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

PEACE WITH JAPAN

With the peace of Europe still unsettled, word from General of the Army Douglas MacArthur that the Japanese peace treaty can be signed within a year, with geographical considerations already agreed upon with Russia, is most welcome news.

Speaking to a group of American newspaper executives, stopping in a round-the-world flight at Tokyo, General MacArthur answered pertinent questions covering the control and stabilization of postwar Japan. United Nations supervision and extensive use of American airpower were among his suggestions. The Japanese are entirely sick of war and will not be an effective war threat in 100 years, according to General MacArthur.

The general emphasized the need of helping Japan achieve rehabilitation and engage in export trade. Food supplied to Japan will be added to occupation costs, but the Japanese must have economic help.

The general scope of American policy to uplift post-war Japan has served admirably to bring the dawn of true and lasting peace to the Far East. General MacArthur's firm and systematic endeavors along this line have furnished an object lesson to the world in the better direction of international affairs.

As a nation, Japan again shows promise of being a going concern—and going in the right direction. The introduction of democracy, so popular with the Japanese, still faces many problems and perils, in having to deal with the political influx of communism, even as it does in this country. The Japanese people have learned a bitter lesson about totalitarianism during the war years and democracy bids fair to become well entrenched.

The entire conduct of Japanese affairs under General MacArthur has been well-meaning, constructive and practical, and results speak for themselves. Peace with Japan will contribute to a better ordered world and to international peace and domestic security.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

Plenty of Americans have complained in terms of varying intensity about current high prices. Now they are joined by a Russian, M. Marinin, an economist who writes for Pravda.

Comrade Marinin apparently agrees with those who believe that prices in America are too high. He must, because he calls them "a monstrous robbery."

Comrade Marinin says the failure of the government to adopt regulatory measures is speeding "the approaching economic crisis in the United States."

It would be interesting to get the Russian reaction to Comrade Marinin's article. What does Ivan Ivanovitch think about it—particularly in view of the fact that Ivan has to pay $156 for a pair of shoes and $12 for a loaf of bread?

The economic crisis may be approaching, but whom?

Washington Calling

Clark Denies Witch-Hunting

WASHINGTON, July 3.—When Attorney General Tom C. Clark appeared before the president's civil rights commission in closed session not long ago he came in for something of a grilling. Members of the commission wanted to know whether the Truman administration did not itself threaten civil rights through the executive order on loyalty among government workers.

Most persistent questioning on this line came from Bishop Francis J. Haas of Grand Rapids, Mich., and from Boris Shishkin of the AFL. They pressed down hard on Clark, demanding to know what right of appeal individual employees would have from arbitrary action of department and agency heads.

Clark replied, as he has to all such queries, that he intends to be sure that the broad powers under the loyalty order are not abused. Bishop Haas, one of the most liberal and courageous churchmen in America, suggested that the order had already contributed to something very much like a witch-hunt in the government.

No Witch-Hunting. Emphatically Clark denied any intention of witch-hunting. He repeated that every effort would be made to safeguard the rights of those suspected of disloyalty. Shishkin pointed to the danger of the precedent which others might misuse.

Here, once again, is the dilemma of our time. At the root of it is the perverted loyalty of the communist and the fellow-traveling stooge. Their loyalty is to an ideology opposed to our form of society and government. Serving that ideology with blind allegiance, they will go to any length to do the bidding of the bosses of communism.

Now no one, except the members of the House un-American activities committee who tremble at shadows, believes that many individuals of questionable loyalty (Continued on Page Seven)

The World and the Mud Puddles

NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN

Demosthenes has been held up to the youth of the great universities of the world as the most finished and brilliant orator of all time, but on November 19th, 1863, President Lincoln delivered at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, what the English speaking people consider the greatest of all orations.

Tomorrow we celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence by which we declared the United States of America a free and independent nation. That was one hundred seventy-one years ago. Lincoln delivered his oration at Gettysburg eighty-four years ago, so that tomorrow the nation will be almost twice as old as it was when Lincoln spoke. What he said is just as true today as it was then.

It will be in the generations to come just as true—as long as the United States of America remains faithful to the precepts of our forefathers. And, consequently, it is very fitting that at this time again I should rephrase this oration. It is one that every American should be able to repeat at any time.

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting-place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

"But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FEAR OF HARMLESS CREATURES

It is amazing how many parents, by their foolish attitude toward bugs, worms, toads, turtles and the like, inspire fears of such in their young children. These parents had, of course, learned such fears from their parents, as a rule.

Such needless fears in the young child cause him needless unhappiness and rob him of much useful pleasure, scientific interest and information. These fears cause the child to harm or destroy the lowly creatures.

Enjoyable Observations. On the contrary, consider what a deal of enjoyment the young child can have observing the earthworm, ant, caterpillar, toad, turtle and the like when led to do so by a sensible adult. You and I may have seen a lot of two or three spend long periods of delight at a stretch watching a busy group of ants by the sidewalk, or a toad taking his evening meal in the garden, or an earthworm wiggle from his fingers and burrow again into the earth.

Little Karen, Kenty, Linda, Jacqueline, Shirley (of two sets of grandchildren) have had such enjoyment since they were under two. And I have happy memories of sharing such enjoyment with them.

Fortunately, the modern elementary school has been doing yeoman service to cultivate wholesome attitudes in children toward the lowly creatures. In almost any primary school one may see a terrarium with frogs, turtles, newts and the like, even some harmless snakes.

Moth Or Butterfly? On a spring day one may see in a schoolroom a beautiful moth or butterfly which the children watched as it burst from its cocoon. When the children learn at school to take care of these lowly creatures in the terrarium, the fishes in the aquarium, read stories they make up about them or write imaginary letters to them, these children gain something very wholesome. They are acquiring (Continued on Page Seven)

They Say

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State George C. Marshall: "There could be no more fantastic misrepresentation, no more malicious distortion of the truth than the frequent propaganda assertion of implications that the United States had imperialist aims."

LONDON — British Food Minister John Strachey: "There is no food crisis and there will be no food crisis between now and the next harvest."

NEW YORK — Rep. Fred A. Hartley, Jr., (R) New Jersey co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law: "This new law has brought greater balance into the labor-management relationship; has equalized in large measure the responsibilities, obligations and rights of both labor and management under the law."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Tomorrow is the day . . . a wonderful day no matter if it's warm and dry or wet and cool . . . for it's the day that gave birth to our independence . . . the one thing that we must preserve . . . and remember tomorrow to properly display the greatest flag on earth . . . the Stars and Stripes.

We aren't going to talk much today . . . being the day right before a holiday that will call many out for a little fling in one way or another . . . but the following words were sent in by a friend . . . John Weyer up Maryland avenue . . . and without more words we jump right into the subject.

ATTENTION! Friday the 4th, is In-de-pend-ence Day. Just a word of advice to people everywhere: Be sure you lock up, before you go away. This is not a command, we're only trying to be fair.

Also remember if you drive, use your head. The highways will be crowded, as you know. Forget about speed, try driving slow instead. Keep your car under control, wherever you go.

By so doing, you may be a hero, who knows? A good, may save a precious life, dear friend; A too, driver will be careful, wherever he goes. As a rule he'll come out on top, in the end.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

There are two letters in today's mail which, with your permission, I shall answer in this column.

It's a bit of a presumption to take up your time with my private affairs, but so many of you tell me that I feel I may chat with you just as if I were visiting you in your own home. (And some day I may.)

The first letter is from two girls who sign themselves Anne and Mable, and live near Stroudsburg, Pa.

They like my column, but are afraid to give their names. So, they ask me to answer them here.

They want to know what I look like and if that thing I have in my mouth in the picture that the Stroudsburg paper runs with my column, is a cigar or a pipe.

I haven't seen the Stroudsburg recently, but, if the picture is so bad that the readers can't tell the difference between a cigar and a pipe, Mr. Ottaway, the publisher, had better get a new one.

At any rate, it is a pipe, without which only my wife has ever seen me, and then only very early in the morning.

What do I look like? What does Dick look like? and Tom? and Harry?

When I look in the mirror and then consider that my wife still loves me, I realize what a wonderful thing love really is.

And I also realize why marriages that are based on good looks don't last very long.

And also realize the truth of the old saying "Love is blind."

The other letter comes from Ohio. It asks me not to mention her name so I won't, and I won't even give you the name of the city where she lives.

She writes my wife and me to visit her if we ever come out to her way. She is apparently a wonderful cook, and she does her own baking. She hasn't much money, she says, but a comfortable home.

The invitation made my mouth water, but then she said:

"I realize you are far beyond me, intellectually and financially, so I wonder whether I am not presumptuous in inviting you."

Now, what kind of talk is that? I would have to think that just because I happen to have the faculty of expressing in print what my readers have in their hearts, I should be an intellectual snob. My one hope and prayer is that I shall never lose touch with my readers.

That concept shall never enter my heart.

And why should it? I can't cook. I can't bake. I am helpless when it comes to anything that is mechanical. I stand in awe before my carpenter and my plumber, and when I try to paint a chair I mess up the whole house.

And what is that she says about my financial superiority?

I assure you, dear lady, that, for financial independence, plumbing, carpentering and housepainting offer much better advice than writing. I guess we fellows who make our living by the typewriter do so because what you do is greater pay than anything you put in the bank!

PAUL'S PIMPLES. Pimples are a nuisance. They usually come on the face where every body can see them.

They are very likely to appear on the face of a teen age boy or girl. They cause a lot of worry and embarrassment. The medical name for pimples is acne. It is a disease of the skin.

Doctors do not know the cause of acne.

Sometimes acne causes scars which last for a long time. Most young people have a pimple occasionally which goes away pretty soon.

A severe or long standing acne should have medical attention. Patent medicine and salves and diets and home remedies do not help much.

FISHERMAN'S MOTIVES. Two kinds of fishermen there are: The market-man; the sportsman true.

But, there's a chasm wide and far Between the motives of the two.

The market-man his living makes By fishing with his lines and nets. He works for every catch he takes And cold and weary often gets.

The sportsman is a man of dreams. Who loves the earth and sky and sea. When he is out upon the streams No care or weariness has he.

He loves the sport game fish supply. And he would guard it best he can. Which is the only reason why He quarrels with the marketman. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

Wallgren Suggested As Truman Running Mate
Taft-Hartley Act Clips Labor Secretary's Powers
Reds Boasting Of "Fairness To Religion"

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The political tight rope-walking Pacific northwest has become a battleground for the 1948 presidential campaigns a full year before the Democrats and Republicans hold their nominating conventions.

No less a personage than George Allen, erstwhile "court jester" and close adviser to President Truman, has suggested Washington state's Gov. Mon Wallgren as Mr. Truman's 1948 running mate.

Political observers in Washington see Wallgren's stock rising in event the Republicans nominate New York's Thomas E. Dewey again, and then pick Harold E. Stassen for second seat on the GOP elephant.

Wallgren, almost overlooked in vice presidential speculation, is a close friend of the president's. Last year Mr. Truman went fishing with him out in Washington. It is believed that Mr. Truman would like to entice Wallgren out of Washington state to preside over the Senate.

If Stassen shared the ticket with Dewey, the ex-Minnesota governor would have a powerful pull on the pro-labor votes of Washington, Oregon and northern California.

Democrats realize that this could be offset to some extent by nominating Wallgren. The geographical balance would be unique in case of a Truman-Wallgren vs. Dewey-Stassen campaign. The Democrats would have a midwesterner and a far westerner on the ticket, with no concessions to the east.

CUT SCHWELLENBACH POWERS.—Washington wags are saying that Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach soon will be the only "bureau chief with cabinet status". There is more truth than humor in the remark.

Schwellenbach's department is being clipped of many of its functions and much of its personnel through the new Taft-Hartley law and the 1948 appropriations measure.

The Taft-Hartley law takes away the conciliation service from the department and sets up an independent mediation agency. The statute also expands the NLRB as the government's top labor agency.

The new appropriations bill for the labor department drastically slashes its personnel and trims Bureau of Labor Statistics, Division of Labor Standards and United States Employment Service operations.

Moreover, if Congress rejects President Truman's latest governmental reorganization plan, Schwellenbach will lose the USFS entirely and be deprived of authority over the Wage and Hour division.

RUSSIAN "TOLERANCE"—Soviet propagandists, who once treated religion with bitter scorn, now boast of the "tolerance" accorded Catholics in the USSR.

The Soviet Information Bulletin, published in Washington by the Russian embassy and known as the official voice of red Russia in the United States, currently features a story on the "liberties" accorded Catholics—including nuns and monks—in the Baltic republics, the western Ukraine, and western Byelorussia.

According to the Bulletin, members of Catholic religious orders "usually wear the apparel characteristic of their order or society and they have the right to go wherever and whenever they like so attired."

As a further indication of Communist "broadmindedness," the publication says that monasteries are permitted to operate their own workshops, equipped with tools and machinery. The Bulletin observes:

"The state regards these workshops as industrial cooperatives, which have the right to dispose of their product through the existing local trade channels of the producers' cooperatives or privately."

The Soviet magazine also notes that "monks are not liable for military service—as a rule."

The strangest spectacle of Great Britain going into large-scale business with Hungary and Yugoslavia at a moment when her diplomatic relations with these two countries are strained emerged as another unexpected post-war development today.

It came about as part of Britain's latest and perhaps most desperate "self-sufficiency" plan in light of the fact her dollar credits from the United States are running out faster than anticipated.

Many observers say that a new United States loan to Britain is inevitable.

Two Factors. Like all matters dealing with international finance it is something of a complicated process. It was for this reason that Britain placed such high hopes in the tripartite Marshall plan meeting in Paris.

An early international program drafted by Britain in collaboration with Russia and France would have meant an easing of hardships in London and Leeds and Liverpool this coming winter.

Any delay in working out an acceptable system for continuation of extensive American aid to Europe will make things just that much harder for the average Briton, who has been tightening his belt so long that it has become something more than an annoying habit.

The British government has hit upon the foodstuffs from Europe plan as a temporary palliative anyway. There may be even more surprising developments in the future.

The area of the Baltic sea in Europe is 160,000 square miles, including the Cattegat. No other sea has, in proportion to its size, great an influx of fresh water; hence the Baltic contains little salt.

Camp Eastbrook Indians Plan To Go On Warpath

The heretofore peaceful Indians at Camp Eastbrook, the Y. W. C. A. camp on the Neshannock Creek, are going on the warpath on the Fourth of July.

After it is dark enough to enjoy them, sparklers, which have been supplied by camper Betsy Lockhart's father, are going to be waved to the accompaniment of dire and threatening shouts and Indian yells. A huge camp fire is going to be built and a tribal court held. The girls are to dress in blankets, complete with war paint and who-who. Indian dances, songs, and games will be the feature of the evening. At the conclusion of the evening, a report will be given by one member from each court.

On Thursday night, a banquet will be held—formal. Which means in Camp Eastbrook language, the girls will wear dresses instead of shorts. And then comes Saturday, the last day of camp. The regular program will be followed until two o'clock, when parents are invited to take a peek at the rugged life their offspring have been living. A short program illustrating camp life will be portrayed for the parents until three o'clock, and then it's back to the pool for a final dip.

Ellwood Founder Of Sons Of Italy Attends Convention

Among the prominent founders of the numerous lodges of Sons of Italy, attending the 19th annual Pennsylvania state convention here is John A. Statti, honorable venerable of Ellwood City, who organized the lodge in that city 30 years ago on October 29, 1916.

Through the years, the Ellwood lodge of Sons of Italy has expanded to a great extent, its remarkable growth made possible by the capable efforts of Mr. Statti and his assistants.

During the years of organization, Mr. Statti paid special tribute to the men who have in the past assumed the leadership as venerables, Pasquale Cinea, Joe Rubino, Domenico Statti, Mike Pistacchio, Angelo Squicquero and the late John Biordi.

Mr. Statti's efforts did not end alone with the lodge. In his efforts to contribute to Ellwood City a worthy Sons of Italy lodge, he also succeeded in organizing the Corona d'Italia—the auxiliary organization. The women too have had influence in making their auxiliary into a progressive and prominent one in all civic and local activities. Mrs. Louis Bellora is the present head of the women's organization, succeeding Mrs. Samuel Berardi.

Ellwood City is proud to send delegates of both the Sons of Italy lodge No. 606 and auxiliary to attend the present convention in New Castle.

Announces Candidacy For Re-election To New Castle City Council

ALBERT A. HOYLAND

In announcing his candidacy for nomination and reelection to the office of Councilman in New Castle, Pennsylvania, ALBERT A. HOYLAND has this to say:

I wish to announce to the voters of the City of New Castle that I am a candidate for nomination and reelection to the office of Councilman.

I am now on the last year of a full four year term as Superintendent of Finance in your City government. Planning is as essential to the successful running of a City as it is to any other business. Particularly is it necessary that the finances of the City shall be carefully planned for several years in advance in order that no emergency can possibly inflict upon the taxpayers an extra and unbearable burden in any one year. That it is profitable to the Citizens that a City government should plan ahead for industrial development of the City is proven by our own present improved industrial condition which is concrete evidence of what can be done by careful planning and cooperation of the City government with all its Citizens and various civic organizations.

I pledge to you that if I am nominated and elected to Council I will continue to serve you by steadfastly adhering to the plans that have been made and are in the process of fulfillment in order to keep New Castle the City we all love and of which we are proud.

Discover Bikes Were Regulated In City Years Ago

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna is preparing to carry out the provisions of the ordinance, effective August 1, which provides for the registration and inspection of bicycles here. After that date every owner of a bicycle must have it registered before he can ride.

Poring through ancient ordinance books, City Clerk Jack Fritz found an ordinance adopted June 24, 1895, when Bes Lusk was president pro tem of common council. John B. Brown, president of select council, and S. W. Smith was mayor, which dealt with the bicycle situation in those days.

It prohibited the riding of bicycles on sidewalks, a feature which is yet in effect. Bicycles were required to have gongs or bells, another feature in the new ordinance. The speed of a bicycle in 1895 was fixed at eight miles an hour, and no more than three bicycles were permitted "to ride abreast". The old ordinance called for bicycles to pass to the right of approaching vehicles, which is yet a traffic regulation, and racing was prohibited. Seldom nowadays does one see a bicycle race, or violation of traffic regulations in those days it was possible to impose a fine as high as $2.

FREEZE GREEN PEAS TO RETAIN FRESH FLAVOR

"My, how we enjoy those first garden peas! They taste so good and we wish we could have them like that in the winter."

You can have peas like that if you are freezing foods because peas are easy to freeze. Remember the rule—one hour from the garden to the carton. Gather the peas just when they are in their prime. They are easier to clean, if you wash the pods before shelling. After shelling, scald in boiling water one minute—just one point at a time in a gallon of water. Then chill by plunging into cold or iced water. Drain and pack into cartons. Then get them into the freezer as quickly as possible.

For complete directions and time-tables for freezing, send your request to the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle for the circular "Freezing Vegetables and Fruits for Home Use". This publication of the Pennsylvania State College agricultural extension service is available without charge. Information on the canning of peas and other vegetables may also be secured upon request.

SQUELCH SQUAW LAW?

VICTORIA, B. C.—(INS)—By this time next year, British Columbia probably will have a law giving a woman a half-interest in her husband's property. At present the Pacific province operates on what is known as Squaw Law—a married woman has absolutely no legal right to the home in which she lives unless her husband gives it to her. He can sell the house and skip out, leaving his wife and children with no abode.

About 60 per cent of the non-farm families of the United States live in communities of 25,000 or less.

Employment In State Remains Level In April

HARRISBURG, July 3.—(INS)—The Department of Labor and Industry reported Wednesday that employment remained almost stationary in Pennsylvania during April.

A decline of only one-tenth of one per cent was recorded but payrolls increased by a similar amount. Approximately 2,594,093 persons were employed in all Pennsylvania industries during the month, an increase of 9.1 per cent over April 1946, the department said. Payrolls and hours showed gains of 21.5 and 19 per cent respectively in the same period, it was added.

Average weekly earnings for all industries showed slight increases over March while working time remained at 39.6 hours. Weekly earnings during April averaged $45.89 and hourly pay averaged $1.159.

An 8.5 per cent decline in employment in the motor freight and telephone and telegraph industries was offset by a rise of 8.8 per cent in the contract construction industry, statistics showed.

COURAGEOUS AMPUTEE

LATROBE, Pa.—(INS)—You can take it from 11-year-old Joey Hoffman of Latrobe, there are a lot worse things than having your legs amputated. Joey's getting around pretty well these days on a pair of artificial legs, two years after he lost both limbs because of a bone disease. Of course, he misses baseball, and other fast sports, but he says: "At least I can watch them play, and that's something. And I can do a lot of other things too."

Last year 2,075,880,000 pounds of peanuts were produced in the United States. This exceeds the 1945 crop by more than 33,000,000 pounds.

Early History Of New Castle

EARLY GAMES

One of the most enjoyable games known to the early inhabitants of New Castle was "log rolling." It isn't the kind of log rolling we think of today, however, since the sport of that day had nothing to do with water. The fun was, rather, to roll all the newly-cut logs to one spot in a clearing, preparatory for burning.

This sort of play went on all day long. When evening fell the gamblers took out their own lunches.

After they had eaten their fill, they started home through the woods. The day's recreation was complete if they met a bear or a wolf pack on the way. The early settlers were also fond of this kind of sport. Our historian says that the games of that day were calculated to develop a hardy race. They may have accounted too, for the fact that it was many, many years before the population of the town exceeded 300.

Though we can believe, with a little hesitation, that those fellows really enjoyed rolling logs all day, we must wonder just how great an attraction there was in the refreshments served afterward.

While the men had a log-rolling the ladies had a quilting bee. Corn-husking, rail-splitting, and wood-chopping were a few more of the more popular games of the day.

"Onward, Christian Soldiers" is probably the most popular hymn of the last half of the 19th century. It was written by Sabine Baring-Gould, a prominent clergyman and writer of the Church of England.

Maternal, Infant Care Program To Be Discontinued

Local chapter of the American Red Cross announced today that the United States Children's Bureau has issued a statement advising that the federal emergency maternal and infant care program (EMIC) will be gradually terminated beginning this month.

The plan for the completion of the program is as follows:

1. Maternity and infant care for wives or infants will be completed if initial care was authorized prior to June 30, 1947.

2. Maternity care will be authorized after June 30, 1947, if the mother was eligible under the program as of June 30, 1947, even though she may have applied for care subsequent to that date.

3. Infant care will be authorized after June 30, 1947 if the mother or infant was eligible for care or received care under the program as of June 30, 1947. For example, if the wife of an enlisted man in the eligible pay grades became pregnant before June 30, 1947, she will be eligible to apply for and receive services under the EMIC program until six weeks post-partum, and her infant will be eligible for service under the program for one year.

OILY HAIR?

Eminent Practitioner Suggests This Simple Care

Dr. C. E. Shiffer, Licensed by Ohio State Medical Board, (Cosmetic Therapy)

An oily scalp requires more frequent shampooing. But dermatologists agree that shampoos containing alcohol, free alkalis and harsh ingredients only irritate the scalp, making the oily condition even worse.

Unlike ordinary shampoos, Dr. Shiffer's Special 101 Formula Shampoo can be used often as needed without harming the most delicate scalp. Specially compounded to give gentle cleansing it works into a rich lather in hard or soft water. A quick rinse leaves the hair and scalp refreshed and thoroughly clean. For additional protection between shampoos Dr. Shiffer's Hair and Scalp Conditioner is recommended.

At all drug and department stores. If you are not completely satisfied, return the unused portion direct to Dr. Shiffer and he will refund your money immediately.

Use Film To Cure Reckless Driving

DENVER, July 1.—(INS)—A Denver police judge has returned to moving pictures as the best way to impress traffic violators as to what will happen to them if they continue to drive carelessly.

Pocket Searcher In Laundry Can't Keep Discoveries

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—(INS)—Finders aren't always keepers. At least not if they're a pocket searcher for a cleaning establishment.

What's a pocket searcher? Well, when you send a suit to the cleaners and forget to remove your wallet from the pants, it's the pocket searcher who is responsible for the return of your billfold.

Almost all of the large laundries and cleaning businesses employ searchers, and the clothes searchers turn up just about everything that can fit in a pocket.

Besides the more common articles found, such as lipstick and cigarettes, there are many odd and often valuable items uncovered. Jewelry and wallets are commonly found in men's clothing as well as cosmetics. The searchers are constantly finding false teeth.

About the most unusual find made by a pocket searcher was the tiny kitten that in some way got itself inside of a laundry bag.

"DEAD" LANGUAGES REALLY DECEASED IN HIGH SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG, July 3.—(INS)—Greek and Latin—the so-called "dead languages," are literally that as far as Pennsylvania high school students are concerned.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas reported that the number of students enrolled in Latin courses has dropped 22 per cent in the past decade, while in the same period, Greek became practically extinct in classrooms.

Spanish, with an increase of 102 per cent, far outstrips other languages as the most popular. Haas said, French, the most popular 10 years ago, dropped 58 per cent and now ranks a slow second, he added.

German ranks a very slow third, he said.

have infiltrated into our government. But no one can doubt that there have been some. Their very presence, even though they may have done a minimum of harm to national security, has raised a cloud of suspicion.

Dismiss Disloyal

The other day, the state department announced dismissal of ten employees whose loyalty was in question. They were summarily dismissed under the McCarran rider to the state department appropriation bill. Under the terms of that rider, they have no right of appeal.

Here is the danger and it is a serious one. By this procedure the individual is prejudiced and found guilty without appeal.

In at least two recent instances, it has been proposed in the senate that the FBI be given the right to pass on all employees of a particular bureau. That would in effect be giving to a police agency the supreme power of government. It would be a long step in the direction of the police state.

The deeply troubling thought in the minds of many men is that, in scouring the few who are disloyal, we may endanger the whole structure of liberty on which our free society depends. In this there is a terrible irony. In combating communism we can get the very kind of totalitarian controls on which communism inevitably rests. The president's civil rights coming good experience in humane education. Through such experiences they also learn to be kind to birds, rabbits, squirrels and other creatures of higher order. Often I have seen garter snakes in a classroom, even turtles crawling about the room. For the first time in my life I held a live snake in my hand while visiting in a rural school in Utah a few years ago. What else could I do? A little girl took it from her neck and trustfully handed it to me very carefully. I'm glad I had enough courage not to run away, though I really wanted to. During my childhood all snakes were to be feared and killed.

Kindness To Pets

Children may learn kindness to animals by having pets at home. But too often a very young child is allowed to handle a tender young creature too roughly for its safety. Once I saw a three-year-old handle a tiny turtle so roughly that it soon died. Then the child old enough to care for a pet should be made to do so faithfully. In case his parents fail to foster such responsibility in him the pet should be disposed of. It is harmful for this child to call a pet his own without taking responsibility for its proper care. If all children who have pets were held to this rule, there would be relatively few pets for some while.

The sting of the Mexican "Durango scorpion" often is fatal to children.

Cooling Off At City Pool In Neshannock

The City Recreational pool on the Neshannock creek at the end South Mercer street is fast becoming one of the most popular haunts in the city. At least that is the version of the younger fry.

A daily average of about 150 youngsters throng to this hot weather mecca. A sliding board and two diving boards supply fun for the daring, and a large bank of sand makes fun for the tiny tots.

Two life guards are on duty, and are strictly enforcing the "buddy" system. On exceptionally hot days, the pool is kept open until eight o'clock. From two until five in the afternoon is the busy period of the day; everyone is aqua minded.

ECK-LAMM WEDDING AND RECEPTION

Miss Helen L. Eck, of Ellwood City, daughter of Mrs. August Eck, of Johnstown, was united in marriage to Edwin R. Lamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lamm, of 319 East Edison avenue, this city, in the Pine Street Lutheran church of Danville, at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of June 28. Rev. Walter E. Brown officiated.

The bride was attired in a beige dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Nevin H. Weikel, of Danville, as her cousin's attendant, wore an aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Charles McGill, of this city, serves the bridegroom as best man.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin H. Weikel, 19 West Market street, Danville, and a wedding dinner was served to the bridal party at the Milton hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamm will make their home at 321 Third street, Ellwood City. Both are employed at the National Tube Company, Ellwood City.

Oregon's Ancient Caves Could House War Plants

BLEND, Ore., July 3.—(INS)—Worried about the atom bomb? Or just losing sleep because there's no place to live?

Why not pick out a good cave where there's plenty of elbow-room out east of the mountains in Oregon or Washington?

These are not "chamber" of commerce suggestions. They are serious reports from explorers of the vast underground.

"Cavers" who explore lava tunnels and limestone galleries of the thinly-populated Oregon country believe that here are more dry, well-ventilated and easily accessible caverns than in any part of the U. S.

These have not been used for several thousand years since aborigines huddled in shelter-fortresses to shape implements of war out of black volcanic glass.

Caves Are Spottless
Aside from several feet of accumulated dust on sandy floors, caves are spacious and spottless.

These early "munitions factories" cave experts point out, are just the ticket for modern war plants, cushioned from air attack by rock ceilings and removed from large cities if the atom bombs start falling.

Northwesterners say the army-navy munitions board apparently never heard of these huge, comfortable tunnels when they ruled out underground war plants because most of them are damp or located over the 35-mile limit from a railroad.

Caves Not Damp

Damp? Ordinary matches dropped on the sandy floor of the Oregon cave, half a mile from the entrance, lit when struck four years later.

Only some of the larger caverns—one is big enough to hold a seven-story building—are of the limestone type through which water drips eternally.

Although these have high humidity, the rest of the tunnels are dry and equipped with nature's original air-conditioning system, thermostatically controlled by temperatures outside.

On warm days, chilled cavern air rushes to the surface and on cold days the air current is reversed. Tests have found only a few places where the air was stagnant.

Lava Tubes Fashioned
Lava tubes were presumably fashioned, not by underground rivers of water, but by rivers of molten lava which drained away leaving tubes with all the features of engineered bores. In places they are straight and smooth and two railway tracks could run side by side.

The most perfect of the few explored out of the many in the northwest is the Mt. Adams tube in Washington. It is 3500 feet long, straight as a railway tunnel, and is lined with "shelves" and "alcoves."

A perfect underground setup for small industries which could be tucked in, say the "cavers."

Only 20 Oregon caves are in the national catalog but there are scores of uncataloged caverns in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

There are thousands listed nationally, but explorers think the actual number is 50,000—enough room for all small industry underground.

Only a small per cent are in national or state parks. The rest are free.

Mexico is a federal republic of 28 states, each having a large measure of home rule, with a governor, legislature and judiciary elected by universal suffrage in a general election. There are two territories whose governors are appointed and may be removed by the president, and a federal district containing Mexico City governed by federal commissioners.

Doll Contest At G. W. Playground

Forty-five dolls were entered in the doll contest at George Washington school playground on Wednesday afternoon when little mothers of the district met to display their children.

Seven winners were chosen with first place going to Carol Schoellkopf, for a fancy doll. Mary Beth Winter received second prize for a bride doll and third was awarded to Judy Trimble for a mammy doll.

Receiving honorable mention were Barbara White for a doll 9 years old, Helen Langan for a Spanish doll, Katherine Weber for the smallest doll and Judy Levine for a picture doll.

These dolls will be on display with the winners of other playgrounds in the Winter Co. the week of July 8.

Judges for the contest were Edith Bodendorfer, Janet Wade, Marilyn Wade, Beverly White, Joan Dittmar and Susan Weller.

Junior league baseball team of George Washington defeated Laurel playground 20 to 11 to give Laurel its first defeat and throws the league into a three-way tie. At the first round of play Dick Burr Gaylord McKissick and Chuck Andrews were Washington's stars.

Second round of play will begin Monday, July 7, Sports Day will be held next Wednesday at 2 o'clock. In charge of the playground are Marilyn Reezes and Bill Douglass.

Helgoland, once Germany's sentinel in the North sea, which the British recently blew up, came into German hands in 1890 when Great Britain traded it for the big island of Zanzibar, off the west coast of Africa. The action brought sharp criticism in Germany, and a witticism that the Germans had received "a single trouser button for a whole suit of clothes."

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—(INS)—Evelyn Keyes is a svelte young lady who is absolutely certain a movie star can lead a perfectly normal life.

"I know I do," she said, "there is no reason why an actress should be any different from anyone else."

But, she conceded that a happy marriage would have a lot to do with it.

With that, Evelyn proceeded to heap praise on her husband, Director John Huston.

She said:

"John is simply wonderful. He is the easiest person in the world to get along with.

Must Cooperate

"Of course, if there was stress between husband and wife. It would make a normal life a little difficult. I can see where if a person was first pulled this way and then that it would not tend towards happiness."

Evelyn is not only happy with her home, but with her new Columbia picture, too. It's "The Matinee Idol," in which she'll come off as a star.

In an opinion and order handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham, the case of Norman E. Phillips against the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation is ordered back to the Workmen's Compensation board for review, and further consideration. The case is one in which Norman E. Phillips claims he sustained a hernia in September, 1941, due to his employment. He was awarded compensation at $18 per week for a period of slightly more than 13 weeks. He also underwent an operation.

Recently he claimed there had been a recurrence of the hernia and asked for a further award which was refused by the board. He appealed the decision to the courts and Judge Braham has ordered the board to review the case.

FEDERAL PAY DELAY

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—More than one million federal employees today still faced the threat of payless paydays as Congress attempted to expedite delayed appropriations for the three-day-old 1948 fiscal year.

The refusal of Rep. Taber (R), N. Y., chairman of the House Appropriations committee, to agree to a Senate proposal to furnish government agencies with interim funds means that most federal workers will not be paid in mid-July unless the unprecedented appropriations logjam is cleared up beforehand.

Contrary to popular notion, "gifted" children, those with an I. Q. of more than 135, are on the average, large for their age, well developed and excelling in many personal traits. Such children have the greatest potentialities for distinguished achievement in life.

Honored By FriendsMr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis Honored
In First Congregational Church Wednesday

Old friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis of Lakeland, Florida, gathered in the First Congregational church Wednesday night to honor the former New Castle couple. Present were a number of men and women who were friends and neighbors of the Davis family back in the early 1900's, and a number of adults now who were youngsters then.

The reception was opened by Rev. Thomas J. Jones, the pastor of the church who introduced the chairman of the evening, Councilman D. O. Davies. Mr. Davies presented a number of guests for short addresses. Among them were Mayor John F. Haven, Joseph D. Williams, William A. Francis, Henry T. Jones, Isaac Isaac, Bart Richards, Griff Thomas and William Pritchard. Solos were presented by David Lewis, Miss Florrie Davis and Miss Cecelia Hughes, accompanied by Mrs. John M. Evans.

Before Mr. Davis was called upon he and his wife were presented with gifts, attesting the esteem in which they are held here. Mr. Davis responded with a short address of appreciation, an address that was appreciative, partly philosophical and partly historical. Following the meeting, the women of the church served cakes and tea in the Sunday school room.

Some years ago Mr. and Mrs. Davis left New Castle, following Mr. Davis' retirement from active business. They will remain in New Castle for a little time yet before returning home.

Steeplejack Is
Lured From Pole

DES MOINES, July 3.—(INS)—A Des Moines steeplejack who swayed for two hours atop a flagpole on an 18-story building in defiance of police was in city jail today for safe keeping.

Twenty-nine-year-old Theodore Franklin finally was lured from his perilous, lofty perch when humane officer Joe Moore offered him a $500 check.

When Franklin slid down the pole, police grabbed him and Moore cancelled the check.

Thousands of persons gathered around the downtown Equitable building yesterday to watch as Franklin jeered at the officers and caused the slender flagpole to sway dangerously.

He told officers after his arrest that he was trying to "show up" a professional flagpole sitter, Dixie Blandy, who was performing on another building.

Fourth Of July Events Of Years Ago Recalled

Americans don't seem to change much. The Fourth of July was spent the same fifty or seventy-five years ago as it is today. Some New Castle old timers have been reminiscing, and their reminiscences have a familiar ring, very familiar.

"We used to go to Cascade Park, and have a picnic, just as the young folks do today. Only then, it wasn't Cascade Park. It was Big Run Falls, but we had just as good a time as any of the young people will tomorrow," smiled one 85-year old resident. At that time, it was just woods and water, but according to the reports, it was perfect for a picnic.

Outstanding Fourth
An outstanding Fourth for New Castle was its 100th year celebration. A big parade, with everything that goes with a parade made its way around the city.

A member of the D.A.R. remembered, "A little black horse led the parade, and there were floats of every description. We had flags, and the prettiest girls we could find."

McConnell's Mill was a picnic mecca then as now. Miss Elizabeth Young, a sprightly eighty-three, grew up only a half mile from the mill.

"We used to roam those hills, and have picnics in the woods. Went fishing, too. But we never went swimming. Nobody swim in those days."

Was Unpredictable
Old Mose, caretaker of the mill, was Old Mose in those days. He was young, and a tease. When sightseers stopped at the mill, Mose's behaviors was unpredictable.

Miss Young shivered as she remembered one Fourth of July when she and a companion had gone to the mill for a picnic. "We stopped at the end of the bridge, and Mose appeared from the creek. He bowed low, took his hat off, and laid it in my lap. I was sitting in the buggy, but I let out a scream and jumped. The hat was full of big, black worms that Mose had picked down along the creek. You could hear him laugh for a mile," she said indignantly.

Another old timer who had lived on a farm said that a good way, and one well remembered, was wheat cutting on the Fourth of July

That is still seen on the fourth of July, but not this year.

Another New Castle lady, 88, remembered plenty of fourths, and said, "We never worked on the fourth."

Picnic Popular
She was a pioneer of both the oil and timber country, and said that picnics were the popular method of spending the fourth. There were no amusement parks, no cars, or busses, but people got places.

"I left Pittsburgh when a little girl, and moved to the oil region. And when we went 25 miles up the river on a steamboat, that was really a journey. We would take our dinner along, and have a picnic. And then when the railroad came along, we just couldn't believe the magic of it, so we'd go on a picnic for a few miles up the country on the train."

Deer Would Appear
She said that there were no fire-works. "It was very quiet, but we had company. As we sat in the woods eating our dinner, the deer would appear, and the little fawn could sometimes be coaxed to our table on the grass."

Others report that they too liked to spend the Fourth at McConnell's Mill. At that time, of course, it was working, and they could go through and watch the flour being made, and possibly buy some to take home.

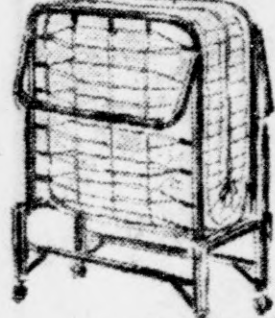

Tomorrow a crowd of picnickers will flock to this same old haunt; some who have never been there before, will rave about what they have discovered, that is until they learn that lovers of the outdoors have been tramping those hills and fishing in those waters, and eating on those rocks for a long, long time.

In Religious And Fraternal Circles

Neshannock U. P.

Rev. Hugh G. Shodgrass, pastor of Neshannock U. P. church, will begin a series of monthly community night services Sunday, July 6. A religious moving picture will be shown at each service, and the minister will preach a brief sermon also. Each meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Davies Candidate For City Council

Member of Council Announces Candidacy For Nomination At September Primaries

D. O. DAVIES

In making my announcement as a Candidate for nomination for Council at the Republican Primaries of Tuesday, Sept. 9th, 1947, I will state briefly the basis for my desire to serve yet a little while longer, to help to carry to completion certain projects, important to the City's welfare and necessary to its progress, which I have helped to plan, project and commence.

Some of these are the construction of a new and complete system of Main Sanitary Sewers; the completion of a new and modern City Building; provision for the Recreational needs of every part of the City; further improvements in the Fire Department, and an enlargement and betterment of the service of other Municipal Departments of the City.

I believe in and have always practiced a conservative use of the funds of the City, and particularly in my own Department, have always striven to reach the goal for good service with the funds available, without increasing the debt or tax burden of the City and its citizens. I have believed in and have practiced a pay as you go policy.

I have sought and have had, splendid cooperation from the other City Officers and Employees in my constant care to see to it that the best interests of all the tax payers are considered and served.

If I am nominated and reelected to Council, I promise to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability; and to be faithful and true to my ideal that a public officer should serve first the public interest. I have been honored by your respect and confidence, and will always conduct myself so as to maintain that respect and confidence.

If you still believe me worthy and honor me again by selecting me to serve you as a Councilman, I will truly appreciate your vote and influence.

Respectfully yours,
D. O. DAVIES

of a contract. It will be submitted for ratification by the 250-man UMW policy committee at a meeting called for 4 p. m., EDT, Saturday.

A brief announcement on the settlement said: "The negotiators for the northern commercial coal operators and the captive mines together with the representatives of the UMW announce that a tentative agreement in principle has been reached subject to being reduced to the terms of a written contract and subject to the approval of the parties."

Concerns Covered
The negotiators said the agreement covered all of the steel company "captive" mines and northern Appalachian coal producers in Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia, Maryland and Ohio. The entire group represents about 40 percent of the nation's total soft coal output.

Biggest producer in the northern Appalachian segment of the industry is Pittsburgh Consolidation, which reportedly is closely aligned with National Steel. Participants in the final negotiating session in the U. S. Steel suit at Washington's swank Carlton Hotel were Fairless; Humphrey; Harry Moses, head of U. S. Steel's coal subsidiaries; John Stephens, vice-president of U. S. Steel for industrial relations; Charles O'Neill, chief negotiator for northern Appalachian commercial coal producers; and the union delegation led by Lewis.

Not Covered
Major coal interests not covered by the agreement are the Indiana and Illinois producers; all operators west of the Mississippi; and the entire southern bituminous industry.

A formal mine strike will begin Tuesday in any of these segments of the soft coal industry which have not signed an agreement with the UMW by that date. The government ended 13 months control of the industry last Monday and the miners will not return to work without a contract with the private operators. Lewis said he had no meetings scheduled at the present time with the producers excluded from the initial agreement.

Neither Lewis nor the signatories to the pattern settlement would reveal the disposition reached on many collateral issues. Such issues include Lewis' demand for an increase in the royalty on coal for the miners' welfare fund from five to ten cents a ton; numerous paid holidays; continuation of the federal mine safety code; and premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work as such.

Dean Park Has Doll Contest

Annual doll show at Dean Park was well attended Wednesday afternoon with 35 contestants entering their little playmates.

It was difficult for judges to select winners from the fine assemblage; however, Genevieve Russo was first prize winner for the prettiest doll, Camilla McCormick received second prize for the best dressed doll, which was a bride, and third prize went to Carol Latore for the largest doll.

Honorable mention went to Frank Mateaga for the oddest doll, which was a two-headed affair. Linda Elmhart for the largest doll, which was a mammoth panda, and the smallest, which was a miniature plastic doll.

Judging the contest were Mrs. Lawrence DeGennaro, Mrs. Joe DeGennaro and Edith Pratt.

A sports day is planned for next Wednesday at the playground. Dorothy Naples is playground instructor.

FAMILY BURNED OUT
GRATEFUL FOR AID
Kenneth Hill, whose home in Castlewood burned to the ground recently, today asked The News to express his thanks and appreciation for the many donations of furniture, clothing, and money. "We are very grateful," he said, "and although we know many of the friends and neighbors who came to our assistance, we do not know who all of them were and want them to know their help was appreciated."

Mr. Hill's house, as the result of the fire, is "in the cellar" and for the present he and his wife and two boys are staying temporarily with friends.

Armond Seeking Nomination For County Commissioner

Announces Candidacy For Democratic Nomination In Lawrence County

ARSEN F. ARMOND

I, Arsen F. Armond, residing at 1307 E. Wallace Ave., born Oct. 23, 1914 in New Castle, Pa., and having lived in Lawrence County all my life, hereby present myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, subject to the Democratic primaries on Sept. 9, 1947. At present I am employed at the United Engineering and Foundry as an Inspector in the machine shop.

I promise to follow a policy of "better relationship with the city officials." Such a policy has been lacking for some time.

The program of county building and maintenance of roads and bridges needs a better introduction to business-like methods. The welfare of its indigent citizens should be properly looked after as its primary function.

So looking ahead to a better and cleaner county government, I respectfully solicit your support at the Democratic Primaries on Sept. 9, 1947.

Almost 800 Adults Study In Evenings During School Year

Adult Classes In Evenings Will Be Resumed Again When School Opens For Fall Term

Educational opportunities offered to adults by the New Castle public schools have been increasing from year to year until during the school year of 1946-47 a total of 799 different persons took advantage of these classes.

Classes for adults meet in the evening, usually twice a week. Most of the classes meet in the senior high school building, but some are held in the vocational shop building.

For the 1946-47 school year the school district operated adult classes in these general fields:

Home economics: garment making, textile painting.

Commercial typing.

General education: chorus, automobile driving.

Trade extension: blueprint reading, ceramics, welding, mathematics.

Veterans: English, history, mathematics.

During the 1947-48 term, which will open in September, the same opportunities will be offered the adults of New Castle who care to take advantage of the courses offered.

Previous to 1948, golf balls had been made of leather stuffed with feathers, and the manufacture of them was difficult. That year gutta-percha balls were invented and were in vogue for many years, until the advent of the rubber-cored ball.

Championship Legion Band Will Be Here On Fourth

When the Perry S. Gaston Post
American Legion members step out in the big Sons of Italy parade here on July 4th, they will be paced by the championship Clearfield Post band, which was runner up for national convention of the American Legion, in San Francisco, last fall, having been sent there by the Department of Pennsylvania, after winning the state championship at Philadelphia.

This band has made a number of appearances throughout the state this year, in competition against some crack bands, having already won 14 first prizes.

Following the parade, the band will stage an open air concert at the Legion Home, which will be open to the public.

Commander E. Gene Schweinsberg, of the Perry S. Gaston Post, feels that the post has been more than fortunate in being able to bring the band here for the local celebration, as they are much in demand throughout the state, and it was only due to the efforts of Worrell M. Jones, of the U. S. Veterans Administration here, who is a charter member of the Clearfield post that it was possible to get them. It is expected that a large representation of the post will be on hand to march with the band in the parade.

Clean Streams Drive Bolstered

Duff Approves Legislation On Mine
Sealing To Prevent Stream
Pollution

HARRISBURG, July 3.—(INS)—
Pennsylvania's clean streams drive was bolstered Wednesday with legislation approved by Gov. James H.
Duff to require sealing of mines within six months after abandonment to prevent seepage of acid wastes into waterways.

Sponsored by Sen. Montgomery
F. Crowe (R) Monroe, the measure requires operators to start sealing slopes, drifts, tunnels and other opening within 60 days after exhausting pits.

Violators of sealing requirements and persons breaking seals illegally will be subject to fines ranging from $100 to $1000 or maximum one year prison sentences or both.

Retrospective provisions made former operators still in possession of abandoned pits liable for sealing.
The commonwealth was assigned the chore where mine owners no longer held exhausted collieries.

The measure transferred supervision of the program from the health to the mines department and appropriated $1,090,000 to carry out the work.

Duff, who has fostered the antistream pollution drive hailed the legislation as "an important element in the pure stream program."

Other measures signed by Duff increased the salaries of members of the milk control commission from $6000 to $6750 and that of the chairman from $6500 to $7250; permitted interchange of retirement credits for persons switching from state to public school service; permitted minors to give consent to adoption of their children.

SPEAKING OF TRUCKS, WELL, WHY DON'T WE?

When some operator starts his con-about Federals. Federal owners are always speaking of trucks, Federal trucks, the trucks that have the

Jay-Bees Play Conway Tonight In First Game Of Tourney Finals

Universals-Besemer In Consolation Game

First Game Tonight At 5:30

P. M., At P. J. Flaherty Field

Johnson Bronze Ready For First Of Series Finals With Conway A. C.

Hundreds of baseball fans will wend their way into the magnificent P. J. Flaherty Field tonight, for the first game of the National Baseball Congress district tourney finals, to watch the Johnson Bronze Jay-Bees battle the Conway A. C. at 8:15 o'clock. The finals are the best out of three games.

The first game on the card tonight will be a consolation game at 5:30 o'clock, with the Universal Pottery playing the Besemer team of the County League, both having been semi-finalists.

Expect Largest Crowd

The largest crowd of the tourney to date will watch the games tonight it is indicated, with interest intense as the Jay-Bees essay to whip the team that has already, erased such fine teams as the National Electrics of Ambridge, the Lawrence Indies and Universals.

"We hope to stop this Conway team, but we know we face a tough assignment," Manager Mike Diffley of the Jay-Bees said last night as he watched Conway dispose of the Universal Pottery 9 to 2 with Jimmy McLeland hurling a three-hitter and fanning 13 batters.

See Pitching Battle

The Conway team is just as wary of the Bronze team, and will start Dick Rager on the hill tonight, the southpaw who made merry last Saturday with the Ambridge Electrics.

Manager Diffley said that he would start either "Bo" Haines or Jack LeBac tonight, with Fred Shaffer also available for mound duty. "We will be at top strength," Diffley contended. Johnny Magusiak, the star shortstop hopes to get back into the lineup tonight. He has been out with an injured leg.

Two Fine Ball Clubs

It will be two crackerjack ball clubs that meet in the finals of a great tourney that has been staged by the Johnson Bronze Employees Association directed by Ralph H. Gardner deputy president, and Joseph Daugherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Employees association, and Clarence "Tex" Riffel, state NBC commissioner, who has attended a good many of the games.

Universals Handcuffed

Young Jimmy McLeland of the Conway A. C. right-hander, did a neat job of handcuffing last night as he pitched the "Railroaders" into the finals with a three-hit effort. Never was the youngster in danger as he whiffed 13 batters and walked but three men.

Magusiak was the only Potter to get an extra base hit off McLeland this occurring in the seventh inning the only time that the Conway hurler was in danger, scoring Evenski from second Magusiak scoring later on an error, by Cottage.

Staph started on the hill for the Universals and got into trouble in the second inning, the visitors scoring three runs on two walks, an error by Staph and a wild pitch. Young Dick "Salpan" Janacone took over in the third inning for

Athletics Are Surprise Team

Hand Defeat To Red Sox, As Yanks Beat Senators, To Increase Lead

By LOU CARAVANTE
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK July 3.—Mr. Cornelius J. McGillicuddy, baseball's heroic patriarch and apostle of "tight" baseball today is making what may be his final bid for the American league pennant which has eluded him for the last 16 years.

Connie Mack has wrought the baseball miracle of the year. He has flicked his ever-present scorecard at a scare-gripping group of cast-offs and rookies, and he is waging a relentless and comparatively successful fight with the aristocracy of the American league.

Macks Beats Sox
Last night, his perpetually musty Philadelphia Athletics, embarrassed the champion Boston Red Sox in their Fenway park hideaway by eking out a 7 to 6 victory in the ninth inning.

Yet with all the praise that is justifiably heaped upon Connie Mack, the New York Yankees still threaten to make a runaway of their junior loop race. Last night, the Bronx Bombers jumped on their nemesis, Mickey Haefner, for 11 hits including Joe DiMaggio's tenth home run and an 8 to 1 victory over the Washington Senators. Allie Reynolds pitched a five hitter to chalk up his seventh triumph of the year.

In other league games, the St. Louis Browns halted a six game losing streak to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 1, and Hal Newhouser, the Tiger's port-sider, staggered the Tiger's port-sider, staggered by beating the Cleveland Indians 6 to 5.

The National league has a new leader today. The Brooklyn Dodgers stole the Giant copyright for the "big" inning last night and scored nine runs in the fourth to eventually triumph, 11 to 3.

The Boston Braves dissipated a 4 to 1 advantage they had compiled against the Philadelphia Phillies and dropped from their first place perch via a 6 to 5 defeat.

Reds Down Pirates

In the only other National league battle, the Cincinnati Reds exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to outlast the cellar-confined Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 6.

The St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs were not scheduled.

Murphy Fails To Show At Hearing

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board all but threw the now infamous case of the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the window.

All because Robert Murphy, of the Boston Murphy's, failed to show at a scheduled hearing to air his charges that the Pittsburgh National League baseball team committed unfair labor practices.

Can't Find Murphy
Attorney Herman Lipsitz tried—and failed—to get a continuance, explaining he couldn't find Murphy. And today he was conducting a personal search for the organizer of the American Baseball Guild.

At the hearing yesterday the ball club attorney moved for a dismissal. Examiner H. Turner Frost said "no," but would recommend it to the board in Harrisburg on the grounds that it lacked prosecution. Lipsitz was still looking for Murphy hours after the books were closed, but not too anxiously. Said Lipsitz: "Pretty good ball club we've got in Pittsburgh, eh."

MAROTTA LIKE CARL TREMAINE

Knows Many Of Tricks Carl Used;
Fights Southpaw Fittipaldo
At Flaherty Field

There is scarcely a fan of a decade ago who failed to rear about or see Carl Tremaine, Canadian, who fought out of Cleveland, in action. He died several years ago, but according to Jimmie Avon of Cleveland, "a new Tremaine is seen in Eddie Morotta, world's featherweight amateur champion."

"Eddie knows many of the tricks that Carl employed to defeat his opponents and he is just as busy in the ring," Avon writes, adding, "and when you see him fight Ted Fittipaldo, the junior champion, June 11, at Flaherty field, the fans will see a great fighter."

Fittipaldo is an unorthodox boxer, being a southpaw. Whether Eddie knows how to combat left-handers remains to be seen. Ted like Eddie, swarms into attacks and makes a whirlwind fight everytime he appears, hence there is bound to be oodles of action.

It is the first time that a world's amateur champion ever appeared here and also the first time that a junior featherweight king has displayed his talent. In addition to being the junior champ, Fittipaldo was runner-up for the senior title in 1946.

Last Night's Fights
NEW YORK—Phil Terranova, 131, New York, defeated Bernie Bernard, 131, Brooklyn, (8).

The first archeological evidences of the wheel date back to Mesopotamian city cultures.

Increase U. S. Aid To China Is Indicated

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Plans for increased American aid to the Chinese nationalist government were viewed today as indicating an early restatement of United States policy in China.

Secretary of State Marshall has turned aside questions as to future China policy. But well-qualified observers note a growing concern in official quarters over the nationalists' inability to bring the Chinese communists under control without outside help.

To date, the United States has maintained the position that China must put her own house in order before expecting any financial help from the American government.

One qualification for receipt of the half-billion dollar export-import bank loan was presentation of a Chinese government in which all parties, including the communists, were represented.

China's application for the fund automatically expired June 30, but the bank announced that further loans would be considered for approved projects to aid Chinese rehabilitation.

Presumably, the political qualification was not renewed. Such an omission would indicate that the United States has taken the stand that China's economic plight requires emergency remedies regardless of its government's composition.

T. H. LAWLEY

Observing the completion of forty years in the telephone industry, Thomas H. Lawley, of Walmo, local field engineer of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, was honored by company officials and co-workers today at a luncheon at Harlansburg.

He was presented with a gold service pin by Clarence E. Fay, division plant superintendent of the Bell Company.

He came to New Castle as cable foreman in 1926, later serving as supervising foreman and line inspector here before being appointed to his present position in 1937.

Lawley is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America. Mrs. Lawley was formerly employed by the telephone company as chief operator at Indiana.

Former Wampum Man Acts In Emergency

Norman Currie Recently Gets Doctor's Degree—Delivers Child On Train

Mrs. Harold Currie of R. D. 1, Wampum, has received a clipping from the "Rocky Mountain News" of Denver, Colo., of an incident in which her son Norman L. Currie took part.

On the train from Chicago to Denver, the dining-room steward, Cy Reister, of Milwaukee, going about his duties was alarmed when a white-faced woman came to him and breathlessly stammered "Is there a doctor on the train?"

Cy remembered seeing the insignia of the medical corps in the dining-car, and found Capt. Noyes of Lowry Field and Pfc. DiFilippi of Fitzsimmons General Hospital. Then they got Norman L. Currie of Denver, on his way to serve his internship on the west coast. Mrs. L. Jones of Crestline, Calif., also volunteered her experienced services.

Garbed in white waiters' coats and aprons, armed only with a jack-knife, a length of twine, and buckets of hot water, the four volunteers trooped solemnly into a darkened bedroom on the train. Fifteen minutes later, as the train stood idle on a siding in Topeka, Diane Clare Codina, a lusty, squalling, little Miss was delivered.

Diane's mother, an Italian war bride with little command of English, and her ex-GI husband were on the last lap of a trip that was to have carried them from Genoa, Italy, to Alameda, Calif. They had calculated the time element closely, and that Diane was to be born in what was to be her home state.

But floods in Nebraska and Iowa delaying them 27 hours upset their finely drawn calculations. Norman Currie and his daughter of Sharon, recently visited in Wampum with his mother. He recently received his doctor's degree from University of Syracuse, and was a veteran of World War II.

A Man Whose Name Was Job

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Job and his friends.

"Blessed is the man whose strength is in Thee."—Psalm 84:5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 6 is Job 1:1-5; 27:1-7; 29:31; the Memory verse being Psalms 84:5. "Blessed is the man whose strength is in Thee.")

"There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil." The word "Uz" is said to mean "a light, sandy soil." The place was located in the north of the Arabian desert between Palestine and the Euphrates. The Arabs still show a place called Uz as the residence of Job.

Job was a very rich man, owning "seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she asses, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all men in the east."

He also had seven sons and three daughters, and they "feasted in their houses, every one his day; and sent and called for their three sisters to eat and drink with them."

After the feasting Job sent and sanctified his sons, and rose early in the morning and offered burnt offerings, for, said he, "It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts."

There came a day when the sons of God presented themselves before the Lord, and Satan was among them. "And the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it."

The Lord asked Satan if he had considered Job, who was "a perfect and an upright man." Satan accused the lord of protecting Job and giving him everything to make him happy and prosperous, so naturally he worshipped the Lord. "But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse Thee to Thy face," said Satan.

Job Gets Bad News
This part of the book of Job is not given in our lesson, but seems to this writer necessary to explain what befell Job. The Lord told Satan he could do what he would with Job except he must not touch his person. So, one day a messenger came to Job telling him his oxen were all taken by the Sabeans as they were plowing, and the servants all killed except the one who brought the message. Scarcely had this messenger finished when another came with the news that Job's sheep had been burned up by fire from heaven, and only the messenger was spared to tell of it. The Chaldeans descended upon the camels, another said, and killed the servants, except the one to tell the bad news; and the last and worst news told him that as his sons and daughters were feasting in the house of the eldest brother, a great wind blew the house down upon them, and all were killed.

Did Job curse God when these great calamities fell upon him? He did not. He rent his mantle, shaved his head, and fell upon the ground, and worshipped, saying, "Naked came I out of my mother's womb. And naked shall I return thither: The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Job was deprived of his fine children and all his possessions and became very poor. Moreover his body was covered with boils. Three of his friends came to comfort him, and to argue his case among themselves. The third was Eliphaz the Temanite. Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. Job's faith never wavered through all his afflictions. "As God liveth," he asserted, "who hath taken away my judgment; and the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul!"

"My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit. God forbid that I should justify you: till I die I will not remove mine integrity from me. My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go: my heart shall not reproach me so long as I live."

Job Reviews His Past

Sorrowfully Job, in his poverty and sickness, reviews his past life. He has tried to live an upright life, and he has. He remembers that "I delivered the poor that cried. The fatherless also that had none to help him. The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me; And I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy. I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: My justice was as a robe and a diadem. I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame. I was father to the needy; And the cause of him that I knew not I searched out."

He recalls how every one admired and looked up to him in his prosperity, and how now he is despised by all but the very few. But through it all he still trusts in God. And he was rewarded. In the end the voice of God came to him in a whirlwind, and restored him what he had lost, even fourfold. He once more had great possessions and seven more sons and three daughters were born to him. His faith and patience in suffering were justified.
